Teenage Life in Britain

Family Life: Families in Britain are usually small, but family life is sometimes very busy. Teenagers have to help around the house because their parents often work. In the evenings, many British families watch soap operas like 'EastEnders' on TV together.

School Life: School starts at 8:45. Students study some interesting school subjects like information technology or citizenship and food technology. When school finishes, at about 3:30 in the afternoon, many students go to an after-school club, like a 'French club' or a 'Drama club'. Students in Britain always wear a school uniform.

Free Time: Like all teenagers, British teens love watching TV, playing computer games and surfing the Net! However, many teens also go to the clubs such as karate or dance clubs, or they go skateboarding or rollerblading. On Saturdays, many teens prefer going shopping or going to the cinema with their friends.

According to the text, which of the following is not CORRECT?

- A) Families are not big.
- B) Young people prefer going shopping or to the cinema with their friends on the weekend.
- C) Teens hardly ever wear a school uniform at school.
- D) Teenagers love watching TV, playing computer games and surfing the Net.
